I was in love with you
One love, crushing my heart
I saw anything but you
Your face, an innocent art

I walked the walls for you
I drowned in your tears of pain
Don't you cherish the fire of love
That kept you , you and me so alive
I had my own heaven resumed in your arms
It's wind was your warm murderer essence
Baby bury me deep inside, all my soul, for once

I walked the walls for you
I drowned in your tears of pain
Don't you cherish the fire of love
That kept you, you and me so alive
Now I'm here, sitting in this dark room, crying alone
You're not beside me, i feel you, but the reason is gone
Sometimes it seems the punishment don't fit the crime
I'm a robot, living my life, standing on my line

I walked the walls for you
I drowned in your tears of pain
Don't you cherish the fire of love
That kept you, you and me so alive
