

Over It "Crush"

if you build a better mousetrap
Won't the world come knocking down your door
Just to call it progress to make you sigh!
Because it weirds me out
To hear the angels call all the way from their coast.
When they're siren song is the only hook

I let it ring to see if it can fit the key of all my dreams

Now It's time to face my choice, let there be no mistake Let it ring, cause I've landed on this rock with all my friends
And well fight to make our peace with life, (??? worry about next time, next time)
And take up our arms like sitcom soldiers.
And take up our arms and fight till time leaves us alone.
