And I swear with her it's always
Heads I win and tails you lose
Josie flashes on TV
The radio sings her name

I'd find her if my heart, we're free
My girl is such a gamble
All my luck runs out on a fifty fifty chance

She takes different ways to stay
Every day a different game
She always finds some way
To save a little face

She's fast, the next thing you know
You're kissing concrete
One day she fakes and the next
She's in love again, she's in love again

And it feels so bad to be this good
When I'm so sick and tired of her cunning style
Whispers around my neck that I watched fall

Behind my back
With all those times I touched her after class
I needed mine, she wouldn't grow, so I got out

She takes different ways to stay
Every day a different night
She always finds some way
To save a little face

She's fast, the next thing you know
You're kissing concrete
One day she fakes and then she's gone away
She'll never get a second chance
To say nothing serious, nothing serious
