Evil never dies

Revenge is sweet for those who wait, never early always late
Waiting now to consummate a marriage made in hell Hand in hand, walk alone as good advice seems to drone
Evil cuts right to the bone

Has it come? Awakens me
Is it done and will it ever die?
Will it go taking me?
Don't you know evil never dies?

Keep me close to your heart, adversity will come apart
And finish just before you start, never question why Today was then, remember when, skipping numbers one through ten
Permanence through the pen

Has it come? Awakens me
Is it done and will it ever die?
Will it go taking me?
Don't you know evil?

Ready
Read the rights, a prophet's word
I've learned to deal with the absurd
And reach a darkened pinnacle of light

Money hungry, power thirsty, penny pinching, fear inflicting
Double crossing, back stabbing, promising eternity for a price
Suckin', brain washing, mind raping, soul stealing Constant preaching, salvation reaching Lowest form of human fucking life, evil never dies

Laughter stands accusing me, emotion stands abusing me
The battered and the bruising me, is there darkness when you die?

I heard a sound, no one there, I heard a shot, no one cares
Laughter turns into despair

Has it come, awakens me
Is it done and will it ever die?
Will it go taking me?
Don't you know evil never dies?

Evil hidden everywhere, evil has a chilling stare Null and void of any care is where the answer lies
It does no good to beg or cry, it does no good to question why
It does no good, it never dies

Will it ever die? Will it go taking me?
Don't you know evil?
Has it come? Awakens me, is it done?
Will it go taking me?
Don't you know evil never dies?
