Cool motherfucker in a deep blue sea
I said I loose my mind
Cool motherfucker in what I see
I said that I don't mind

He said walk on through, we been waitin' for you
There's a place set at the table
Home is where the heart is
And since you been gone my heart's been broke in two

Your return among the strangest see
Your life's gone through some changes
Don't recognize you

Don't recognize you
Don't, don't, don't, don't, don't recognize

Down home to the cool, cool water
Down home to the cleansing water

Cool motherfucker said I know your name
But do you know your God?
Cool motherfucker said I had your pain
Ya, then I blew my wad

My God made love and my God made pain
I feel at home among the insane
I see sunshine in the pourin' rain
Welcome home, oh yes I recognize you

See you been rearranged to suit
And you know we'll never change
What they put you through

What they put you through
What they put, what they put, what they putcha

Down home to the cool, cool water
Down home to the cleansing water

Move it to the right now, to the right now
Move it to the right now, to the right now

Move it to the right now, to the right now
Move it to the right now, to the right now
Move it to the right now, to the right now

Move it to the right now, to the right now
Move it to the right now, to the right now
Move it to the right now, to the right now
Move it to the right now, to the right now
Move it to the right now, to the right now

Jesus cleanse me, can you hear him? Jesus cleanse me
now
Jesus cleanse me, can you hear him? Jesus cleanse me
Jesus cleanse me, can you hear him? Jesus cleanse me
now
Jesus cleanse me, can you hear him? Jesus cleanse me
now
Jesus cleanse me, can you hear him? Jesus cleanse me
Jesus cleanse me, can you hear him? Jesus cleanse me
