Out on this road takes its toll
And you pay for everything you do
Underlights, made me blind
This place is the same as last night

Out of control takes its toll
But you learn to live with your dreams
And speaking your mind to those you find
Listening to what you have to say

I wouldn't change the way
I wouldn't stop the decay

Promised the world, as your world
Changed before our eyes
And the days became the weeks
And the weeks, the years

No one remembers that very first day
How it slipped away

Forever I wait, pulling in, pulling out
As the motors whine
To remind me I'm home
And I'm here to stay

As we decay
Another day
Decay away

I'm goin' home, I don't know where
I'm goin' home, not far from here
Out on this road, paint this toll

Make me whole, set the stage
Fill it with anger, fill it with rage
No, I don't know what is today
I know it falls in the years of decay

Self sacrifice, every night
And together we paid a price in blood
That spilled out through the years

And another day passes away

Look to the black, drawn farther back
Look to each day, see the decay
Times I've had, good and bad
Win or lose, this is what I choose

The years of decay
The years of decay
The years of decay
