It's never enough
It's never too much
It's never the love
It's never the trust

It's never the way that we choose to get lost
Or the way that we find out

You said
The bullet's not
Stronger than the pen

So step outside now
It's not too dark to see
All that changes
Maybe it was meant to be?

Never be the first
But dont let the thought of that get you to low

It's never enough
It's never too much
It's never the love, the hate, or the trust

It's never the promise we've broken to learn
Or the way that we found out

You said
The bullet's not
Stronger than the pen

You said ..
The bullet's not
Not stronger than
The pen

So step outside now
It's not too dark to see
All that changes
Maybe it was meant to be?

Never be the first

But dont let the thought of that get you to low

You said
The bullet's not Stronger than
The pen

It's never the way that we choose to get lost
Or the way that we find out

So step outside now
It's not too dark to see
All that changes
Was it was meant to be?
