I met you at the perfect place
It was so beautiful
We had the time our lives
Driving and driving away

But I haven't seen you in so long
Imagination is fading away
I haven't seen you in so long
You probably don't speak the same way

I'm falling over for loving you
I'm falling over for missing you
I'm falling over for thinking that
Our love will ever come through

Thinking back when we were kids
It was so easy then
I loved the games that we played
And the expressions on your face

I'm falling over for loving you
I'm falling over for missing you
I'm falling over for thinking that
Our love will ever come through

All I know is all I've got
All I've got is wasted love
All I know is all I've got
All I've got is wasted love

I'm falling over for loving you
I'm falling over for missing you
I'm falling over for thinking that
Our love will ever come through
