I want to go somewhere out of these walls
It might be the death of me but everyone knows
I never listen
I never listen

And I want you in the back of my head
I want you so I never forget
What I'll be missing
What I'll be missing

The anger has melted I can feel it leave my body
And I am exhausted, I am exhausted for you.

I want to go somewhere out of these walls
It might be the death of me but everyone knows
I never listen
I never listen

And I want you running through my veins
I'll keep you so I never forget
What I'll be missing
What I'll be missing

The anger has melted I can feel it leave my body
And I am exhausted, I am exhausted for you.

If I feel right, If I feel right
You are right there.

The anger has melted I can feel it leave my body
And I am exhausted, I am exhausted for you.
