In the moment massive abuse i ride solo on a train rearing out of control with the fire in my veins

she is the heaven in my hell she is the keeper of my soul she is the rush i cant control she is the one that leaves me whole

Can't stop this feeling this desire to self-destruct addicted to servations addicted to the rush

she is the keeper of my soul
she is the rush i cant control

take me away from the cell of my own making to perceive the light in the darkness that awaken hold me tight then i wont breathe another breath save me from myself falling into the arms of death

she is the keeper of my soul
she is the rush i cant control
