8.Shell

song written by:Wanting lyric written by:Wanting :

Thoughts are running through my head

Reluctance to failure, I refuse to cry

The outside showers the opening wound

I trip and fall until

Redundancy catches me up, I have no where to go

While she feeds me I hate myself, tears coming down I
choke

The hour fills with wish and hope but the hour is gone

I threw myself, then I became a shell

Truth is, is not what you see

You see what you want to believe

There's so much more to offer inside of me

But I can't come out because

Redundancy catches me up, I have no where to go

While she feeds me I hate myself, tears coming down I
choke

The hour fills with wish and hope but the hour is gone

I threw myself, then I became a shell

Became a shell, became a shell, became a shellâ€¦;

The outside, showers the opening wound

I trip and fall...

Redundancy catches me up, I have no where to go

While she feeds me I hate myself, tears coming down I
choke

The hour fills with wish and hope but the hour is gone

I threw myself, and I became a shell
