As those ladders fall, as your hand slipped out
And I refused to let it go.
The city crumbles down, and abyss between us -
Our fears comes true.
I cant wake up

Craving soul, losing control.
If we knew this day is our last,
What would you do, what have you done?

The dread claws rip the earth under our feet.
We're still trying to find someone to blame.
They forced you.. They forced me... They forced us.
I cant wake up

Craving soul, losing control.
If we knew this day is our last,
What would you do, what have you done...
To us?

roast!

Craving soul, losing control.
If we knew this day is our last,
What would you do, what have you done?

Sun will rise lighting our path
Pushing the darkness away.
Sun will rise lighting up hope
We'll be together again.
