

Will And The People

"Train"

Visit "Train" on MotoLyrics.com

What if you
What if you, said to goodbye to me
Tell me would you care
Would you even blink
Cause my money is gone and I don't belong
I'd be afraid of the dark if I lost my spark

I've blamed
I've blamed everyone but me
And this time I can finally see
I'll accept the call written in my brain
But what's the point it doesn't know my name
I always said it could go, I always said it could be
And I kinda know what's gonna happen to me

I've got pain in the morning
Train time is dawning
If I don't care
Who's gonna care

I've been looking for love in all the wrong places
Someone just showed me they're afraid of their faces
They were all so nice to everyone but me
Sitting on skeletons no one can see
I've got no things found or a CD collection
I could've if I wanted, never felt addiction
I just spent what my parents gave me on some trash
And I dived competition I was set to splash

I've got pain in the morning
Train time is dawning
If I don't care
Who's gonna care

Sunny or mundane
Sunny or mundane
You'll get there someday
You'll get there someday
You'll get a reaction
You'll get a reaction
Reflects on your back son

Reflects on your back son

I think I'm sad, I know I'm sad
I couldn't have even saved all the things I had
I blame the other man in me
The day that I'm happy I'll finally see
A stupid train deserve a crowded train
I hate these people, I don't know their names
But I swear, I swear, I swear I can see
How a man can go crazy when he's told he's free

I've got pain in the morning
Train time is dawning
If I don't care
Who's gonna care
[x2]

Tell me would you care
Would you even blink
Because my money is gone and I don't belong
I'd be afraid of the dark if I lost my spark

Visit Will And The People page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.