It's early in the mornin'™

The sun has not arrived
No sleep, she dries her eyes
He called says he's still workin'™
Like so many nights
She hopes it's™ not a lie

She's lookin' at the time
She sees it's still last night

No sun in sight
There's nothing wrong it's still alright
He really wasn't out all night
Until she sees the morning light

She hears a car approachin'™
To the window she flies
The car just passes by
Left gazing in the darkness
She thinks about the times
When everything was fine
Everything was fine

But late's™ becoming early
Her stomach churns inside
Swallowing a sigh
And her fear and her pride
The clock is madly tickin'™
Screamin'™ out the time
As each minute passes by
And what that implies

She's lookin' at the time
She sees it's still last night

No sun in sight
There's nothing wrong it's still alright
He really wasn't out all night
Until she sees the morning light

No sun in sight

There's nothing wrong it's still alright
He really wasn't out all night
Until she sees the morning light

No sun in sight
There's nothing wrong it's still alright
He really wasn't out all night
Until she sees the morning light

No sun in sight
There's nothing wrong it's still alright
He really wasn't out all night
Until she sees the morning light
