

Ozark Mountain Daredevils "Giving It All to the Wind"

Visit "Giving It All to the Wind" on MotoLyrics.com

Have you ever felt yourself in a place a little strange
When nothin' seemed the way it should be?
And every time you'd set your sight and take an aim
Things would change, move out of range

Have you stood in the sunshine and seen darkness everywhere?
Have you looked for a seashell on a street?
Has it made much difference that you've never had to share?

You've just given, given it all to the wind
You've just given, given it all to the wind

When you finally find yourself in the middle of a dream
And the vision slowly slips away
It's hard to hold yourself in the middle of a stream

You just give in, giving it all to the wind
You just give in, giving it all to the wind

Visit Ozark Mountain Daredevils page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.