GUITARS INTRO)

when she moves, she moves me when we touch, it's a burnin' breeze she's too much, too much for me she's got this thing, this thing she does this thing she does, it goes buzz-buzz-buzz you'll never know, just what it was

Â

and there oughta be a law against it there oughta be a law against it there oughta be a law, oughta be oughta be
there oughta be a law against it but I don't know what they 're going to call it but one way another, it's all man's fodder
and there oughta be a law against it there oughta be a law

(GUITAR DITTY)

what she wants, she gets somehow what she gets, she gets right now if she wants you, you go bow-bow-bow you get wishbone talk in the bush, bush fools a mystery walk, in high-heeled shoes press your luck, you'll always lose

there oughta be a law against it
there oughta be a law, oughta be oughta be
there oughta be a law against it well I don't know if I can keep it too myself she's got the mantle to my mental health and there oughta be a law against it
there oughta be a law

(GUITAR SOLO)

(HARP SOLO)

when we touch, it's a burn an' freeze she's too much, too much for me
there oughta be a law against it

there oughta be a law of some kind of law
there oughta be a law against it Â
there oughta be a law against it
there oughta be a law against it
there oughta be a law of some kind of law
there oughta be a law against it
but I don't know what they 're going to call it one way another, it's all man's fodder
