heartache will get you down but your body heals once your love has been found heartbreak is something else when you just can't cure the pain that you've found and we almost believed it was love yeah, we nearly perceived it as love you know i would have sworn it was love but my mind and body fail me now and my shining armor's rusted now it could have been love

it should have been love

you are catastrophe and i rode your wave, it was carrying me i am an island now, and it's nevermore you're gonna be drifting up on to my shore

yeah we nearly perceived it as love
(oh they fail me now)
and my shining armor's rusted now (oh it's rusted now)
it could have been love

The whispers:
This one's for the puffers and the scribblers in the lot save for whom the rose that blooms would be the flower time forgot and the holy hell [they caught]
