The lights at the bar turn on to signal she's leaving
And the late night they crowd all want her to go She looks at her phone and reads a message from the evening
"Come home"

And you step outside into the world you know its freezing
And you think how your mother always said "take a coat"
And you wonder if you'll ever find a reason
To come home

The party's always better when your with someone you know
Stick with me a while, we'll tear this town apart.. oh
oh oh oh
Together we'll be partners in a crime
No witness to our love, you and I wanted by everyone

And you wait by the window to hear for when she's coming
And a taxi pulls up and the door slams shut and its gone
And the boots on the stairs make a sound that's so familiar
Come home

The party's always better when your with someone
you know
Stick with me a while, we'll tear this town apart.. oh
oh oh oh
Together we'll be partners in a crime
No witness to our love, you and I wanted by everyone

And the late night they crowd all want her to go
She looks at her phone and reads a message from the
evening
