I never thought we'd come this far
Sit still, and wonder who you are, today, think
How much longer can we be apart
The same story, I know it off by heart, okay, it's just another day

Caught, in a world that's bulletproof
I can't taste the truth but it won't drag me down
And I'm caught in a world that's bulletproof
Set me up to lose but I won't let you down

Who's gonna tell you what you're worth
Roll over and expect to work your life away
Why can't you realize today
That you're

Caught, in a world that's bulletproof
I can't taste the truth but it won't drag me down
And I'm caught in a world that's bulletproof
Set me up to lose but I won't let you down

There's an emptiness inside when we're apart
And when I'm far away from where you are
There's too much time for trouble in my heart
In my heart

Caught, in a world that's bulletproof
Caught, in a world that's bulletproof

Caught, in a world that's bulletproof
I can't taste the truth but it won't drag me down
And I'm caught in a world that's bulletproof
Set me up to lose but I won't let you down

I won't let you down
(Caught in a world that's bulletproof)
I won't let you down
(Caught in a world that's bulletproof)
I won't let you down
(Caught in a world that's bulletproof)
