get the sinking feeling you're behind my head again and the more I weed, the more it grows and here I am, hung by my toes the time spent set in cement spent wasting my time when i could have been pulling it down

it's my release

held down, entangled it's a web of my own making and this desolation's shaking me apart build it up, paste it up, stick it up stuck up. fucked. such a shame my defences have become my own restrictions my love

talk to me
it's a bone orchard
you cast your shadow
on my heart
it's a bone orchard
