Verse 1

Money; I never seem to have enough of it
To buy all the things that you covet.
Your high class friends always putting me down.
And lovin'; you never seem to get enough of it.
The boys all swoon and you love it.
I don't even know why you want me around.

Chorus

And I don't know what in the wide, wide world
I'd ever do if I could never see your pretty little pout.
(What would I do without you?)
But startin' tomorrow
I'm gonna find out.

Verse 2

Princess, I've got a little news for you, girl.
The world don't revolve around you, girl.
Your moody little way's 'bout to drive me crazy.
And baby, you're turning me black and blue, girl,
And it's breaking my heart in two, girl.
My future with you looks mighty hazy.

Chorus

And I don't know what in the wide, wide world
I'd ever do if I could never hear you scream and shout.
(How could I live without you?)
But startin' tomorrow
I'm gonna find out.

Bridge

I need you to give completely.
You need me to pass the day.
You take my love and then mistreat me,
Then throw me away.

Guitar solo

Chorus

And I don't know what in the wide, wide world
I'd ever do if I could never hear you scream and shout.
But startin' tomorrow

I'm gonna find out.
Yeah, startin' tomorrow, baby girl
I'm gonna find out.
I'm packin' it up now, baby
And I'm headin' on out.
Yeah, startin' tomorrow, baby
I'm gonna find out.
