I'd like to figure out the reason
I'd like to figure out the reason
Maybe your conscience
Is holding you hostage
Redeeming all broken hearts you never touched
But crumbled without trying
With repercussions from the start
And expectations flying
I'd like to figure out the reason
I'd like to figure out the reason
Maybe your vocal cords
Are silenced for purpose
Cause words you've already said with honesty
We're taken as rejection
Confusing love with what you need
And strangling connection
I'd like to figure out the reason
I'd like to figure out the reason
Maybe your wondering
If I'm different from all the rest
But even that very thought would frighten you
And paralyze your action
Keeping you on the move
Attracts you to reaction
