You've been sayin'
You've been lonely
Since you lost your one and only love
That was sent from up above
Wrapped inside your pain, your heartache
Blinded by the love that we could make
Can you see it in my eyes
It comes as no surprise
Now your tellin' me your time
Is occupied by all your mind
And there's no room for romance
It comes as no surprise
Could it be, better than you had before
You can't know, nothing in this life's for sure
Take a chance, maybe your not done
And you can't find love when your on the run
Seems to me that your misleading
The very thing that you've been needing
But your afraid that it might fly
It comes as no surprise
Could it be, better than you had before
You can't know, nothing in this life's for sure
Take a chance, maybe your not done
And you can't find love ,when your on the run
It comes as no surprise
