Your shades cannot lie the stories that they could tell
If your walls could speak the filth they could spill

Your shades cannot hide the stories that you tell If your walls could speak the filth they would...
(spill) always what you were all that he ever needed (with fingers crossed) will hold you close just for tonight
Making memories I was remembering how could you
be so bold

Your shades cannot hide the stories that they could tell
If your walls could speak the filth they could spill

Your shades cannot lie the stories that they tell
If your walls could speak the filth they would...
(with fingers crossed) will hold you close just for
tonight
Making memories I was remembering how could you
be so bold

Spread your legs for attention bat those pretty eyes in a glance
It's all over Spread your legs for attention bat those pretty eyes in
a glance
It's all over now
