

Et Tu Brucé "It's All Nothing"

I took a trip to find myself
I came back being somebody else
While looking for a way to blow my mind
I discovered that my soul got left behind somewhere
I discovered that my soul got left behind somewhere

The chaos and confusion
Were the order of the day
My mind spun its illusion
And nearly blew itself away
It's taken time to realise the navel gazing way of life
Is gonna burn down all of your dreams
And blow the smoke in your eyes
Smoke in your eyes

Maybe Jesus loves you
The rest of us want you to crawl
Credit where credit is due
You don't owe nothing at all
Nothing at all

Be good with what you're given
Keep the hounds at bay
The walls don't make the prison
No matter what they say
It's taken time to realise
My old mind was telling lies
Where I was blind I can see
I can see

Maybe Jesus loves you
The rest of us want you to crawl
Credit where credit is due
You don't owe nothing at all
Nothing at all
