

Paddy Goes To Holyhead "A Last Song"

This will be a last song this will be a last goodbye take care of yourself evrywhere and hold your head up high
The moon is shining clearly and the stars are shining bright
This will be a last song for tonight

When Im old and doddering and my race is almost run Will you ever think of me will you miss me when Im gone Forget all pain and sorrow come and rest here by my side

Last night I dreamed the waters came rushing to and fro
th e siren gave a warning I watched my body go
The sea began to rollin oh god I cannot land
I hear a loud voice calling: Please save this drowing man
