what happened?

is your head wrapped up in a blanket, has your vision blurred all at once?

is your mind playing tricks on you lately, have you wrapped it up and tied it up?

tomorrow might not happen, and you know it, don't you know it though?

and this girl put a spell on you
and ran away with it,

calm as the sea

it's so perfect, the sum of the parts you're allergic to,
and nobody knows it,

like a house of cards out of balance,
and only she knows it,

it's your mind that causes fear among cowards and rebels,

and you come around to be my friend, now tell me why you don't come around no more?
