

Jeronimo Project

"Leaving The Light"

Visit "Leaving The Light" on MotoLyrics.com

Old mother earth still turns around but still our planet haven't found a way out of this dirty mud and still we're lying in our blood

Imagine outer times in future (your son asks) Daddy where the skies once blue and you have to answer quickly (You say) Son I tell you now a tale of truth

Refrain: Don't you see you're Leaving the light Don't you see you're Leaving the light and our days will change to night He only lent us mother earth now we can watch the caveman's birth

Once the the oceans were full of water and the skies were just the same clouds just dance above your head glimmering rainbow behind the rain

You can walk on grass of green and breath air so fresh and clear but then human race had changed since then we're drowning in a sea of tears

Refrain

Pollution set's its poison free and your surroundings get away now son you know the crashing tale right now you see how we're living today, leaving today, leaving today see... we're leaving the light

Visit Jeronimo Project page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.