[Tracy]

It's not you, it's not me,
I guess we don't fit so perfectly.
It's not you, it's not me,
I guess we don't fit so perfectly.
You can't say, I can't breathe,
There's no fixing what can't be.

[Jerzee]

Well I guess the honeymoon is over,
'Cause baby you don't know how to act right.
I know we do this all the time girl,
But i promise it now, this is the last fight.
We always yelling at each other,
I swear we were enemies in a past life.
But the funny thing is,
That we vowed we was going to get along just last night.

Now we don't always see eye to eye,
But i swear girl that i try, to put my pride aside.
I'm a man, so whats wrong to hide?
I just can't, so you start to cry.
Then you dry your eyes,
We both know this is for the best.
Every heartbeat in my chest,
Still screams your name.
But if we don't soon end this stress,
There wont be no heart beat left, yes.

[Tracy]

It's not you, it's not me,
I guess we don't fit so perfectly.
You can't say, I can't breathe,
There's no fixing what can't be.

[Jerzee]

Ugh, I never thought it would be us,

Me and you were supposed to be forever babe.
But reality just crept up,
I was holding out hope for some better days.
But lately that just never come,
No sunshine now its only rain.
This ain't love, it's a cruel game,
Well now I'm here wishing that I never played,
'Cause I'd have been better off.
I wouldn't feel this pain if I never loved,
I would've never cried, never felt soft,
Before you came along I was that strong.
Now we're here trying to figure out,
If you should quit or stick around,
It's different now cause my head's like kick her out,
But my heart says one more round (wow).

It's not you, it's not me,
I guess we don't fit so perfectly.
You can't say, I can't breathe,
There's no fixing what can't be.

It's not you, it's not me,
I guess we don't fit so perfectly.
You can't say, I can't breathe,
There's no fixing what can't be.

[Jerzee]

My head's telling me to kick her out,
but my heart says one more round.

My head's telling me to kick her out,
but my heart says one more round.

My head's telling me to kick her out,
but my heart says one more round.

My head's telling me to kick her out,
but my heart says one more round.
