[Verse One] [Scarub] Single male seeking female with a beautiful mind And a physic that me peeping like, "Damn she's fine." Let's take a date with destiny Shoot across the galaxy, Just me and she She and I acting out fantasies Hobbies me? Swimming in the Milky Way Playing marbles with the stars My noggins spaced out like that No sense Why even charge me of malarkey?
Grounded my heart beat But my mind sky larks See?
Hold the phrase, "What if?" like a car key Roll with me
The brain race like road rage Strap in before you start me up Where the side walk ends is where I dare to jump Parachute while shooting our paragraphs Let's rap Love conversations that tickle funny bones and make you laugh Yeah, I'm comedy, But not funny like ha ha The type of funny that you chuckle at when out of ya mind Birth sign Aquarius People think they see me like, "Where he go? There he is." Thoughts don't drift in one line Movements various I'm a daydream catcher For you love and laughter I fish Sailing on the winds blown after maeing a wish You're number one on my to do list [Chorus] [MURS] If so beautiful your mind is Your money or you mind which is timeless Most seek fortune but it's rare that you'll find One millionaire out of ten with a beautiful mind You can't buy youth when you're old or food for your soul Friends when you're lonely or a love that's grown cold The wealthiest person is the poorest at time When compared to the one with a beautiful mind [Verse Two] [Eli9] it's the muscle I use to hustle my voice A tussle to choose management of thought in my shoes Not easy at times Voices chatter at night, meeting of mind Inside my tank The scene of a woman passes your nose Left an impression for life A possession in time Lesson in strife Decompression of love Lives from the past Embedded in me Regrettably free Free to wander the planes Universe is the sky My body lies over the ocean but my mind will fly A beautiful thing shelter from the rain Forgetting the pain, letting it stream down the drain In the form of denial The Trial and error To stare at your problems with heroism and win Beginning of sin End of the beginning and then Some numb it with narcotic to fend from the demons within Blurring the vision Wisdom occurring through prism Colors of hope Shining bright like a beacon is my eye when I'm speaking 3rd is the level I'm freakin' flows For the people who listen, know That it's all a tradition, grow With a plant of my purpose Land on my feet in the circus ring I'm the master who work the crowd What a beautiful mind to tag the times [Chorus] [MURS] If so beautiful your mind is Your money or you mind which is timeless Most seek fortune but it's rare that you'll find One millionaire out of ten with a beautiful mind You can't buy youth when you're old or food for your soul Friends when you're lonely or a love that's grown cold The wealthiest person is the poorest at time When compared to the one with a beautiful mind [Verse Three] [MURS] I know I'm only using 10% of what you offer But I feed you what I'm reading Trying to brighten up my chakkas Imposters Hide behind degrees and certificates Some seek to expand you by using barbiturates In sitting with his book Tryin' to get a better look Through these words as mirror I should hope to see you clearer I'm a pigment of your imagination it appears So mold me Shape me Hold me Take me Existence is a window and our dreams are the draperies Lately, I'm lonely cause you're still the only One who understands my plans and consoles me I'm hoping we can find That match for our soul And through that union we become a new whole But for now it's you and the life we create Destiny we control and the fate that we shape That's enough to keep us busy till we find the right mate But if we never do At least I had this time with you One body one mind, we combined the two A pair like us you'll only find a few Until my last day I pray I stay this way with you
