I had a thousand other better opportunities
I could take a highway without stop however preclude me
Taking the hardest is like a sadistic game and I am aware
How many times they told me to stop,
So that I could not continue

Why can not you understand me?
I can not order my blood to flow
Why did you stop believing?
To flow in the easiest direction
We're not alone down here

I'm wrong, tell me that I was wrong
Break me down with your achievements
I chose to be like one has taught me
I choose to face my day
With my eyes open

Burn! and I have to feed my life
Transformed into food for the days
My mindcapture images and sounds
I close my mouth a few times but maybe
It's because I destroy those voices
From within in a short time

Why can not you understand me?
I can not order my blood to flow
Why did you stop believing?
To flow in the easiest direction
We're not alone down here

I'm wrong, tell me that I was wrong
Break me down with your achievements
I chose to be like one has taught me
I choose to face my day
With my eyes open

Tell me I'm wrong (Tell me I'm wrong), bring me down with your achievements
I catch images and sounds, I'm trying to fill up my best experience
