"Chance Of A Lifetime"

And here's the time of my life
It ain't no friend of mine
And here's the time to say goodbye
Without a fight

If you hurt me bad
You don't really care
All the things we shared
Now are just like sand

I pray every night to hold you tight
I taste the tears falling from my eyes
Your face in the wind, your name in dreams
The chance of a lifetime escapes from me
And now you see?

Destiny parts our way
There's no going back
And I don't care who's right or wrong
Now my love is gone
I need someone to love

If you hurt me bad
You don't really care
All the things we shared
Now are just like sand

I pray every night to hold you tight
I taste the tears falling from my eyes
Your face in the wind, your name in dreams
The chance of a lifetime escapes from me

And now you see?

All the tears we cried
We learned the hard way
It was all in vain?

Solo

One more night
I'll be standing there

There is something you can't take

I pray every night to hold you tight
I taste the tears falling from my eyes
Your face in the wind, your name in dreams
The chance of a lifetime escapes from me
I pray every night to hold you tight
I taste the tears falling from my eyes
Your face in the wind, your name in dreams
The chance of a lifetime escapes from me

The world I'd cross just to kiss your lips
A war I'd fight just to hear your name
For me your love is a candle light

The world I'd cross just to kiss your lips
A war I'd fight just to hear your name
For me your love is a candle light
