Like the day and night,
Hate and love will never collide.
Like the time you've left,
There's a chance you can stop to fight.

Space between the lungs, that is called your heart. You have to lose your
Soul to gain a life.
Space between the lungs, that is called your heart. You
have to lose your
Soul not to lose your mind.

Keep your money, keep your pride. I have left with nothing else but city
Light. (x2)

Like the day and the night, hate and love won't collide.

Wars and terror everywhere, even in your peaceful life.
I am screaming at
Your hollow mind.

Lord give me a sign.(x2)
