You were always scared about the future
I was always scared of losing you
I guess you've "won" and I'm the loser
Cause moving on seems hard to do

You see my life, has been turned upside down I feel traumatized

As you convince, yourself that you are moving on
I can't think, I don't sleep, and for that I apologize
I quit moving on

You would always tell me what I liked to hear Simplistic words, conniving lies
Believe me, I wish this would disappear
Unsatisfied

traumatized

As you convince, yourself that you are moving on
I can't think, I don't sleep, and for that I apologize
I quit moving on
