So there you are in the same old spot
You say you need him cause he's all you've got Well I've got news, for you
Yes, I swear it's the truth; you've got to break through

You find a way
See what's good in life, and keep it there to stay
You cling to, those who have hurt you so bury them
bury them may
You find your way

He tears you down while you build him up
You say it's the price you pay for this thing called love
But you know it's a lie, to say he's the one
So quit wasting time, and pull the trigger on the gun

You find a way
See what's good in life, and keep it there to stay
You cling to, those who have hurt you so bury them
bury them may
You find your way
Now you find your way
You find a way
