Yeah! Go!

The touch of magic that you thought you once had
Was wiped out with that smile you forced on your face
You hide your horns and try to bury things in your hate There's no give and take in your ugly race

Lie after lie
Through the same mistakes again
It's always the same
Time after time
Trying to save us from ourselves
But you're always too late

I'm not gonna take this shit and I'm not gonna drown
Again and again you set the rules for us to lay it down
Suits and ties decide your destiny from dollar signs
And when the goddamn boat starts to sink, they don't care who's left behind

World domination
Tries to save us
Death our savior
Termination

Step right up, people, and vote for your favorite disaster
They're all corrupted so it doesn't really matter

At night, their limos pulling up to the clubs
Expensive dinners, whores on government's credit cards
They've done this for years then they get busted in their act
Then you sit and cry in court and say you'll pay it back

Lie after lie
Through the same mistakes again
It's always the same
Time after time
Trying to save us from ourselves
But you're always too late

I'm not gonna take this shit and I'm not gonna drown
Suits and ties decide your destiny from dollar signs
And when the goddamn boat starts to sink, they don't

I'm not gonna take this shit
I'm not gonna drown
I'm not gonna take this shit
I'm not gonna drown
