

A Colour Cold Black "The Last Chapter"

We will be gone too far,
Having forgotten how to live without
Modern electronic technology
Mortal metal makes me moan about my future
Reading the book of mankind
I rather want to stop 4 cause I fear the truth
Now I turn the page, it4s getting colder
Because it is□

The last chapter
The last chapter

And I try to regain only a little of what is
Lost, of what I loved to have
The machine swallows me, I try to keep
Away but it will get me

Is it facade?
Is it a mask?
I am looking for any face behind:
Pesonality or individuality
We are a crowd but still
Everyone of us: completely alone, like in a dream
Nobody sees me, nobody hears me
In□

The last chapter
The last chapter

And I try to regain only a little of what is
Lost, of what I loved to have
The machine swallows me, I try to keep
Away but it will get me
