Who are you to call yourself a king?
You know who you are
So think
So far from an idol
You're nothing
Don't worry this is just the beginning
Hide behind your money
Hide behind your friends
Put down your fucking crown
Before I bury you in the ground

How does it feel to know once you pass away, we'll dispose the throne
I'm so fucking sick of going out of my way
My way to help you
Our advice went straight through you
Straight fucking through you

Don't take this as me complaining
A realization on how you've been living

Turning close ones into victims
Attempt to force them in the ground

You proceed as nothing happened
People will soon catch on Disconnected from all around
We've caught on, we've caught on
You proceed as nothing happened
Spilling others blood
Disconnected from all around
We've caught on, we've caught on

All my life I've been searching for the cure to end this cancer

Turn the page
Eliminate the waste
You make me hate the human race
Turn the page
Disguise your face
I've been waiting for the day I separate

Resolve this nuisance
Kill off the hound
What is it that you have to offer
Two faced back stabber
