I've seen the way that you talk, oh the way that you move.

And like I told you before, you're nothing new.
So let me show you the ropes and where to begin.
But baby, don't get upset when we reach... the end.

I've got a feeling that I let somebody down, and now
it's on to me.

If I could find the way to mean the words I say
Then maybe this could be... something so much more
than what we had before,
A secret I did not plan to keep.

You've torn up the dance floor, as well as my heart
The night that I planned didn't have this part
So I'll sit and watch
Oh, but not make a sound
As you turn up the heat and burn this place to the ground.

I've got a feeling that I let somebody down, and now
it's on to me.

If I could find the way to mean the words I say
Then maybe this could be... something so much more
than what we had before,
A secret I did not plan to keep.

Lets tear this place apart!
Blind.

This isn't anything like I planned.
I'm trying to understand,
I'm trying to understand.

Don't let me see you cry
That's not who I knew back then
I often wonder why you and I were never friends.

I've got a feeling that I let somebody down, and now
it's on to me.
If I could find the way to mean the words I say
Then maybe this could be... something so much more

than what we had before,
A secret I did not plan to keep.
