Did you ever think it hurts
Did you ever think it works
It's even getting worse

Did you ever think it hurts
It's even getting worse
Have you ever been dispersed
A little piece of a curse

Down with a view to what we found
With our feet back on the ground
I hit the ground
When it sounds
Like we're losing solid ground
With our eyes set, turnaround
I hit the ground

Did you ever think it hurts
Did you ever think it works
It's even getting worse

Down with a view you will find something new
With your eyes set, your feet on the ground
To see what we found there's no need to turn 'round Here's a sound when you lose solid ground, hit the ground

Down
With a view to what we found
With our feet back on the ground
I hit the ground
And it sounds
Like we're losing solid ground
With our eyes set, turnaround
I hit the ground

Did you ever think

Would you say you're blessed
With all that you possess
Would you say you're blessed
