

A Joker's Rage "Something Sacred"

Visit "Something Sacred" on MotoLyrics.com

Sacred life, forever a mystery to me.
Sins and lies, put them to rest or shoot me.
Do I dare believe I could be the one carrying the gun,
And fight the afflictions of this world.
Does it seem enough, will I live to see
Can you guarantee that I'll be remembered?

I can't break through the day,
Give me something to die for.
Take this fear away,
I have a child to live for.

Sacred time, taken away so quickly.
Piece of mind, doing the right thing for me.
What about a life I may have to take if I was to break,
And drop to my knees in tears and fear.
Would I have the strength, could I carry on,
What if I was gone will I be remembered?

I can't break through the day,
Give me something to die for.
Take this fear away,
I have a child to live for.
