One rainy morning
I am thinking to myself the fire is glowing reflecting on your picture on the shelf I'm feeling so gloomy when I see your face one thing is true, it can't be you to help me through this day

Broken heart that falls like leaves the more it cries, the more it bleeds all our hopes are filled with dreams and the dreams they cut too deep
Broken heart that falls like leaves
the tears we cried have turned to sea the pain is taking over me please wipe away my tears of pain the rain is calming but the darkness rules the land my heart is dying and its smothered by the picture in my hand I can't understand why he took you away now im alone and yes, I know I can't make it through this day

Broken heart that falls like leaves
the more it cries, the more it bleeds

my tears of pain

oh please god oh why, why did she have to die? you should have taken me instead.

Broken heart that falls like leaves
the more it cries, the more it bleeds

please wipe away my tears of pain
