I'm looking with your eyes through darkness that you see You're stuck inside my world and now you're part of me I'll make you welcome with just one nod of my head and sooner than you think you are much more than dead

you're welcome to my world hope you'll enjoy your stay you're dying in this world by the soldier made of clay

More than evil, the light inside your head that's me
More than evil, the light is dying can't you see?
More than evil, there's no one who can set you free
More than evil, the demon inside you is real how are you feeling?

are you suffering enough? you're feeling nauseous but the pain is yet to start you're dying in my world and you will have to stay you hear the twisted word you're a soldier made of clay

More than evil, the light inside your head that's me
More than evil, the light is dying can't you see?

More than evil, the light is dying can't you see?
More than evil, there's no one who can set you free
More than evil, the demon inside you is real
