"The Queen Of Hearts"

The rain is freezing cold I'm walking through the storm with a rusty shield I'm holding in my hand after all the battles won after places I have gone how i wish to hold you in my arms again

I thought I'd never be your knight in shiny armor but you took me in your heart and showed me wrong and when you look into my eyes it makes me calmer with you I feel alive, my Queen of hearts you are so far away but I know I will one day make it through the storm and rain to get to you I know that you're not here but I feel you everywhere and I see you in everything I see

I thought I'd never be your knight in shiny armor
and when you look into my eyes it makes me calmer
