My temperatures getting higher now your under my skin
I find it funny when you think that you always win Your not as innocent as everyone makes you out to be yeah
I know I'm on your mind when your reminded of the time when we were one

But don't worry about me, coz i am okay
People warned me about your storey but now I'm okay
You keep on thinking about the things you said,
They keep running threw your head
But don't worry about me, coz i am okay now

You think that your fooling everyone when your your own fool
Your lies your silly lies become your truth
Are you seriously sick in your mind, do you think that I'm blind
When your voice it turns me paralyzed
I know your thinking about me, when you keep saying your sorry
Oh how kind

But don't worry about me, coz i am okay
People warned me about your storey but now I'm okay
You keep on thinking about the things you said,
They keep running threw your head
But don't worry about me, coz i am okay now

When you looking into my eyes, my heart start bleeding
When you looking into my eyes, my heart start
bleeding

But don't worry about me, coz i am okay
People warned me about your storey but now I'm okay
You keep on thinking about the things you said,
They keep running threw your head
But don't worry about me, coz i am okay now
