Before, I thought I wasn't strong enough,
To try and break every boundary that surrounded me,
But now, since we've been together for a while,
The skies are clear, run for mile,
We won't give up, we'll fight till we die.

We run, and sacrifice everything we have,
We can't go back now don't you turn around,
Coz now, we are to far from home, we're to far from home.

Re United, At the start we were really quite,
But now louder then a screaming riot,
We can not breathe were screaming from our lungs,
Seemed impossible, But now we what we have,
Were so inseparable, the cities they are running mad,
Our hearts are intertwine were running to the light,
that's not far behind.

The shadows that are lurking in front of our eyes,
Get brighter and now we are free falling our way back, into the light.

We run, and sacrifice everything we have,
We can't go back now don't you turn around,
Coz now, we are to far from home, to far from home.

Nothing can stop us now, we've come so far
Our hearts beat so much faster.

So we run, and sacrifice everything we have,
We can't go back now don't you turn around,
Coz now, we are to far from home, to far from home.

We Run, We Run
Our hearts beat so much faster
