They call it science but it's more like religion cause
I swear to god I'm on a mission
And I swear to god don't fuck with my vision cause
That would be such a bad decision
You kids are sick, but I'm a physician
Said you make cuts but I make incisions
The difference between us is the degree of precision
And I'm a real thing, a rapper who listens
A rapper who shines, without the glisten
If you ask me, that's what the game's been missing
Well wishing I was in hell, wishing for a pot to piss in
The industry requires too much...
Fuck you, I don't ask permission
I move them out, mass eviction
Nuclear vision is also massive friction
The game is a sort of addiction
The blessing and the curse, the cure and the affliction
Who's next, I got a prediction
I got a question, not more a suggestion
When you talk about the game, there's a name you need to mention
Yeah, there's a name you need to mention
Life's a bitch, but I'm a feminist
We the future, look at you and reminisce
Life's a bitch, but I'm a feminist
We the future, look at you and reminisce
Life's a bitch, but I'm a feminist
We the future, look at you and reminisce
Life's a bitch, but I'm a feminist
We the future, look at you and reminisce
