If I was a painter,
I'd throw away my brush
And if I was a fighter,
I'd hang up my gloves
And if I was a magician,
I'd give away my secrets
If I was the only witness,
I'd swear to forget
See, I'd give it all up,
To go back to before I fell in love
To the first time that I saw your pretty face
And turn, and walk away

If I was the night sky,
I'd give away my stars
And if I was the sun shine,
I'd would gladly go dark
If I was the king of the jungle,
I would give up my throne
If I was Caesar, Augustus, I would surrender Rome
See, I'd give it all up,
To go back to before I fell in love
To the first time that I saw your pretty face,
And turn and walk away

Should've walked away, x 4
Could've walked away, x 2
Should've walked away,
Could've walked away,

Shouldn't let it get that far
Now I'm all torn apart
How I wish I could erase you, ohh

See I'd give it all up,
To go back to before I fell in love
To the first time that I saw your pretty face
And turn, and walk away
