Smile, sing, dance,

To everything there is a time
Your eyes wet,
In the winter there is snow
Look there's sun,
But I'll calm you yes I'll do
Prove to noone

All the days that seem to come,
Nothing's lost or here to stay,
But the autumn brings the calmness
Of the night, your dreams is all I hope

Move to shape,
All these colours are my light
New hope comes,
So I love you most of all
Mom why sad,

Please believe me please don't cry

All these things you've never tasted
All these years that seem so wasted,
Never were and never will be,
'Cause your light signs too much
And when your hair is grey
And the time has come,
I'll give you my hand,
So sing along, so sing along

So... so... sing along, sing along...
