Hey girl, I can see you
For the right price I will be you
Today girl you're a punk rock tart
But if a checkbook talks
You're the state of the art

You sold your soul to be in the spotlight
You sold your soul to be on a scene
You sold your soul to me and it's not right
You sold your soul and it's obscene

Hey girl, make believe you
With your bubblegum eyes and your see-through
Today girl you're the talk of the town
But when the next year comes
You'll be lost in the sound

You sold your soul to be in the spotlight
You sold your soul to be on a scene
You sold your soul to me and it's not right
You sold your soul and it's obscene.
